Director's Note

ROBYN LEE HORN

When The Diary of Anne Frank was first staged in the inaugural season of Niagara University Theatre, the title role was played by an undergraduate student. That student, who came to be known with boundless affection as Dr. Sharon, would go on to teach at NU for 50 years and co-found the BFA theatre program.

The Diary of Anne Frank chronicles the daily rhythms— the joy, laughter, anxieties, and grief—of eight people in hiding together for over two years, with little space, food, or privacy. What I once saw as the story of a brilliant young life cut tragically short by antisemitic violence, I have since come to see it as something more radical—a portrait of hope and inexhaustible humanity standing in resistance to systemic and brutal dehumanization.

The Diary of Anne Frank was chosen in recognition of NU Theatre's 60th anniversary and also because it is a story that still needs to be told and retold. We hope you carry some of Anne's hope, optimism, and humor away with you when you leave the theatre tonight.
